

"My roof had been replaced two years ago. But I had had some problems with continuing water damage. The roofing company said it was not a roof problem, rather it was a masonry problem. And the damage continued. Finally I learned about Abracadabra Restoration Specialists. Paul came out to look at my situation. The problem was definitely related to the way my roof had been put on. There were some steps that should have been taken. A series of "shortcuts" had left my roof (and my home) vulnerable. Not only did the roof get the proper treatment, the bathroom where the walls and ceilings were affected required more than just a paint job. Paul saw to it that all the repairs were made, the painting was well done, and he cleaned up after himself. All this was done in a timely manner, not making me wait for weeks between each step. I highly recommend Abracadabra. I just wish I had known about their work BEFORE I had dealt with the other roofers!"

"I was very pleased with Abracadabra from the start to finish as they installed my new roof. Paul and his crew did exactly what they said they would do. The estimate happened quickly, the work was started on schedule, everything was cleaned up each day, and Paul returned when the job was complete to walk through everything with me. He even called two weeks later after multiple rains to see if I was still satisfied with the work. It was great to have such personal service! I was also very impressed with the work crew. They were polite, did not smoke on my property, and used appropriate language while working. They worked hard and seemed to truly be a team. I think that in our current society these traits of dependability, honesty, genuine pride are rare. I really appreciate getting work done by a company that has those values. I highly recommend them."

"Our experiences working with Abracadabra was great, especially considering that our investment property in Roanoke had a roof problem which needed immediately attention is located in a different state than we reside. The punctuality, quality of the workmanship as well as the friendly and knowledgeable attitude that Mr. Paul Williamson show during the entire process made this experience in replacing the roof extremely easy and we could not be happier. We will recommend Abracadabra to everyone. It was great to find Abracadabra Restoration Specialist who guided us in the process of filing a complicated insurance claim, saved us a lot o money by making sure that the estimate for the claim is replacing the roof were correct. Mr Paul Williamson took the time to check and made the necessary inquiry, having the insurance adjuster come for the second time to check the measurements which were wrong, and by doing so we got the entire cost for the roof covered by the insurance. We will strongly recommend Abracadabra and Paul Williamson to everyone."

"The team started at 8am just as promised with 4 or 5 people, worked steady until done. Good clean-up had me walk around for my approval. Abracadabra Restoration took the pain out of my insurance claim."
